The people who want the right to profit from selling bomb parts...

want to take away your human rights to protest against the killing fields.

Please let EDO know, politely, why you oppose their role in warmongering and mass murder across the world:

EDO is seeking to suppress the campaign by using injunctions under the 'stalking act' to ban protest as harassment. One lawyer is responsible for most of in these injunctions that erode basic human rights. The time has come to say enough is enough and protect our freedom to protest! If we don't then all legitimate protest in this country may be rendered ineffectual, and ineffectual protest is a freedom not worth having. It is our right to change the world for the better. Contact the lawyer, ask him to stop taking money from warmongers and leave our human rights alone.

Lawson-Cruttenden & Co have been involved with curbing protest in:

1. Bayer - the chemicals to pharmaceuticals multinational was at the forefront of pushing genetically modified food in the UK. A series of campaigns protecting our environment from them by exposing their dodgy business to public scrutiny have received injunctions designed to stop their activities and silence the protests with the threat of law and costs.

2. Oxford University - despite claiming to be a bastion of free speech, the University is desperate to stop protest around its controversial new animal laboratory. Its wide ranging injunction is being used to suppress internal debate and stopping staff and students receiving information on the issue.
