Street Blitz (streetblitz.org)

proposes you all to use London as an open gallery for these two weeks. Install your art or anything which changes the perspective on our city then get online and post it onto the empty map on www.streetblitz.org. You can add a description and any photos of your work.

There will also be room for comments on each placemark which can also be used to tell us if the artwork is still there or if the miserly bureaucrats got there first.

All Power to the Imagination!
1968 and Its Legacies

marks the creative resistance of a remarkable year, while placing its lessons in the context of our own times. From April to June and across London, this major season explores 1968 culture, politics and thought and their legacy manifestations in cinema, visual art, literature, music and activism.

Indymedia will be there (see listing above)
