

SAVE OUR NHS NO TO PRIVATISATION KEEP GLOUCESTERSHIRE'S NHS PUBLIC

Following a high court challenge by Stroud resident Michael Lloyd, NHS Gloucestershire has withdrawn plans to transfer our local hospitals & 3000 NHS health workers out of the NHS.

They agreed to go back to the drawing board, to consult the local community and health workers about what they want, and to seek NHS options, which do not require a competitive tendering process.

This is great news, but this is just the first step in keeping our health services in the NHS. The campaign to Keep Gloucestershire's NHS Public needs your support now more than ever.

Come to a Public Meeting to celebrate Michael Lloyd's recent success in the High Court and find out:

- What does the outcome of the legal case mean for the plans to transfer services out of the NHS?
- What will happen next?
- What are the options for the services staying in the NHS, and how can we ensure they are properly pursued?
- How does the Health & Social Care Bill affect us locally?
- How can you help the campaign to Keep Our NHS Public?
